

Dermal Anchors and Microdermals are one of the newest piercings procedures available and have become more popular every day. The jewellery is made out of Grade 23 Titanium and allows the person to wear a single gem or flat disc in many areas that traditional piercings may not be suitable or acceptable. These unique pieces of jewellery are small and can be implanted underneath the skin with very little work as compared to a standard piercing. Your skin stabilizes the jewellery around it, making it far superior to your standard surface piercing which is more invasive and requires longer healing periods. Surface piercings also have a high rejection rate and often leave scars after every attempt.

Sonic Tattoo is proud to be one of the only studios experienced enough to offer this newest procedure to our clients and the public. This procedure requires a highly skilled piercer with many years of experience to properly insert and remove this type of jewellery. Be sure the piercer is fully qualified to handle all situations and is certified with First Aid and Bloodborne Pathogen Training. Be cautious of piercers attempting to do this procedure without the proper training, knowledge of anatomy and how the jewellery is inserted and removed.

The piercers at Sonic Tattoo would be happy to walk you through the whole procedure and answer any questions you might have. We also offer continue support and follow up with every Dermal Anchor and Microdermal we provide, should any problems or questions arise. Please feel free to stop by our studio anytime and we would be more than happy to show you the procedure step by step until you are more than satisfied.
